CONSERVATION STATEMENT

The National Mullet Club was founded in 1975, and has always taken a firm stand on conservation. NMC encourages its members to return mullet alive at all times. The live return of mullet is required at fish-ins and for eligibility for NMC competitions and certificates. Except in historical contexts, photographs of dead mullet are not published in the NMC magazine.

As commercial stocks of more saleable species become difficult and expensive to harvest, the grey mullet is and will become a more attractive target for commercial fishermen. This slow growing fish may well suffer a severe reduction in stocks that will take countless years to restore, if ever. Accordingly members are:

- Encouraged in the strongest possible terms to practice catch and release at all times
- Reminded that the commercial sale of fish is incompatible with NMC membership
- Expected to observe Rules 12.2, 13.3 & 15, which require the live return of mullet entered for Trophy Competitions and Certificates and all mullet caught at fish-ins
